

LSQ Breakfast Industry Panel - Communities of Patients linking to Best Practice - 15th August, 2014

Join Life Sciences Queensland Limited for an industry breakfast panel featuring CEO, Social Code, Siobhan Bulfin, proudly hosted by Thomson Geer Lawyers.

Siobhan Bulfin
*Founder/CEO
 Social Code*

Communities of Patients linking to Best Practice will feature a panel of national and international speakers within the medical industry to discuss clinical patient engagement and support practices both locally and abroad.

Siobhan Bulfin, Founder and CEO of the Social Code will feature on the panel. Social Code occupies offices in New Zealand and San Francisco; and provides online communities that are disease or medication specific with embedded tracking tools, remote monitoring, behaviour change tools and access to clinical support. The platform is being used by pharmaceutical companies, insurers, patient support groups and clinical research trials. The communities are social and mobile and enable personalised, contextual interventions and support. For the user, these communities become more accessible - it's like having your coach, care team and support crew "in your pocket".

Other panellists include Founder and Executive Director, Hear and Say, Dr Dimity Dornan AO; and CEO, Institute for Healthy Communities, Cheryl Herbert.
